

WESTERN PACIFIC MAY TAP PLOCHÉ

Extension From Ely Said to Be Part of Deal With Nevada Northern.

SCHLACKS' HURRIED VISIT

APPEARS TO HAVE BEARING ON PENDING NEGOTIATIONS.

Resulting from the recent conference between Gould and Guggenheim representatives in Salt Lake it is said that the money which was to have been spent in a Western Pacific branch to Ely, Nev., will be used in extending a line from Ely to Ploché, about ninety miles, and upon other feeders. Through the agreement which is said to have been made between the Nevada Northern railroad and the Western Pacific, the Gould line will be saved the expense of building 132 miles of line into the copper regions of White Pine county, Nevada. This line into Ely, to compete with the Nevada Northern, was desired not only by one element in the townsite struggle which has been going on for some time, but by the Guggenheim Copper company and other Ely mining companies not controlled by the Guggenheims.

It is known that the Guggenheims now have interests in Ploché and that an extension of the Nevada Northern to that camp is desired. It is said that the Western Pacific will have something to do with this extension.

Schlacks Confers With Hughes.

The importance of the negotiations between the Gould officials and the Nevada Northern officials was shown in the arrival in Salt Lake early yesterday morning of C. H. Schlacks, vice president of the Rio Grande railroad, and his immediate and hurried departure, after a conference with A. S. Hughes, general traffic manager, and V. Derrah, assistant general freight agent of the Rio Grande, who went with S. W. Eccles to Ely on Wednesday in a special train over the Western Pacific railroad and returned yesterday.

While waiting to confer with General Traffic Manager Hughes over the Nevada Northern agreement, Mr. Schlacks visited the site of the Rio Grande depot, between Second and Fourth South streets and Third and Fourth West streets, where scrapers are still at work upon the excavation for the foundation. He said that the construction of the passenger station would be pushed with all possible speed. He explained the slowness of the preliminary steps by saying that it was desired to be sure of the foundations before commencing work upon the massive building.

He said that the Rio Grande had not lost control of the Sanpete Valley line. After leaving the depot site, he had a conference with General Superintendent Ernest S. Senger and then went to the Judge building, where he took up the Nevada Northern agreement with Mr. Hughes.

His departure from the city followed a short time later.

JUDGE POWERS INTERVIEWED ON THE SITUATION

of New York, candidate for vice president on the Democratic ticket, arrived here today and at once placed himself in touch with the leaders of his party now on the ground.

"You can say that I am in the race to stay," said Mr. Towne, "and I have every reason to feel that I will be nominated. I have been assured of the support of a large number of the New York delegation, and I believe that at the proper time they will all be for me. From other parts of the country also has come information that my candidacy is acceptable and pledges of active support."

Platform Matters.

Mr. Towne said he discussed at length with Mr. Bryan the various planks of the platform and particularly that bearing on the subject of the issuance of writs of injunction by federal judges in labor cases.

"On that proposition," said Mr. Towne, "I have emphatically stated that there will be no straddle and no ambiguity. The anti-injunction plank will be so framed as to meet with favor from a large majority of the workmen of the country."

Another plank which in all probability will be incorporated in the platform, and which was discussed at length with Mr. Bryan, will embody the proposition of an international neutralization of the Philippine islands.

Dependencies Not Wanted.

"The belief was entertained," said Mr. Towne, "that such a policy would result in avoiding the necessity for tremendous military defensive expenses and give an assurance of the development of those islands under our guidance toward proximate independence. Furthermore, it is likely that there will be a distinct pronouncement that a permanent system of dependencies is out of harmony with our instructions and that the discharge of the duties that have come to us with the Philippines as a result of the Spanish war will not be permitted to deflect us."

That, he said, was in harmony with Mr. Bryan's own views.

Attitude of New Yorkers.

Considerable speculation is being indulged in relative to the attitude of the New York delegation on the platform and the platform. So far they have not pledged themselves to anything or anybody.

"The New York delegation," said Mr. Towne, "is coming here in good faith to have counsel with the delegates of the Democracy of the country and will be guided in its action after it arrives here by the results of that counsel."

HARRISON HAS A BOOM.

One New York Candidate With Good Southern Connections.

Denver, July 2.—The Francis Burton Harrison vice presidential boom is hovering over Denver with all available ballast on board and anchors out. Representative Harrison is on the Murphy, McCarren, Parker train from New York and will reach here tomorrow. An inventory of his assets made today by the party agents on the ground are mostly hopes as yet, but the claim is made that he will be able to go to the New York delegation before many days with the backing of many southern states, as the basis of a demand that the New York delegation unite on him for the second place on the ticket. This plan has in mind the recent announcement from Lincoln, Neb., that a United New York delegation could name the second place candidate.

Up to date Mr. Harrison's friends claim for him six votes from the District of Columbia, 12 from Maryland, 24 Virginia, 18 South Carolina, 10 Florida, 22 Louisiana and 18 Mississippi. His propaganda includes a compilation of laudatory interviews from many of the Democratic members of the house of representatives, beginning with one from John Sharp Williams, the minority leader. Forty-two members of the house are given in a poll of the minority, as favoring his nomination for second place. Mr. Harrison comes from a long line of Virginia ancestry. His father, Burton N. Harrison, was the secretary of Jefferson Davis during the confederacy was captured with Davis and endured nine months of solitary confinement as a prisoner of war.

Mr. Harrison was graduated from Yale university and from the New York Law school and was a commissioned officer in the Spanish war.

IOWA DELEGATE ON DECK.

John P. O'Malley, a Banker, Has Some Positive Views.

Denver, July 2.—John P. O'Malley of Perry, Ia., delegate from the Seventh district, was the first of the Iowa delegates to arrive. He reached Denver this morning.

LOCAL MARKETS

The reason why butter prices have gone up, according to one creamery company, is because the farmer turns his cows out into the mountains and devotes his time and attention to the production of sugar beets and cereals which bring him a larger income than butter fat. According to another creamery, the price of butter has advanced because people who are in the habit of keeping cows get tired of the job in hot weather and turn them out, increasing the demand. Any part of these two reasons may be taken by the consumer in search of consolation in lieu of the extra five cents the pound he is paying for butter this week over last week.

At the Jensen creamery—when by the way, has not sold a pound of butter in the city since its organization—the manager said that it was always the rule that butter goes up in July, for the reason that people do not keep cows during the summer, and the consequent greater demand.

The manager of the Elgin dairy said that effect, as previously stated, of farmers are not producing the butter fat. He says, furthermore, that the increase should have been made six weeks ago, but that his company had taken to hold the prices down as long as it possibly could.

Johnny Burke repeated the explanation offered last year, namely, that the cream rose and butter just had to go up.

Meanwhile a strictly first-class butter is being sold in at least one of the shops in Market Row at 25 cents. This butter is declared to be equal in every respect to the 30-cent kind.

The manager of the Elgin denied the rumor that there was any combination or understanding between the creameries of any other. "In fact," he said, "there is ample room here for two or three dairies."

Green corn is in the market, and it costs 50 cents the dozen ears. Cantaloupes have gone down at wholesale, and so have spring chickens. A consignment of fine black bass has been received. A summary of prices for standard grades is:

The remainder of the delegation is expected to arrive Sunday and will open headquarters at the Brown Palace. Mr. O'Malley says that the Iowa delegation will be in favor of John Mitchell for vice president if the Illinois delegation will put him forward. The delegation is instructed by Bryan.

"There are two things," said Mr. O'Malley, "that our delegation will certainly support. One is a strong anti-injunction plank in the platform and the other is a law guaranteeing bank deposits. These are practically the only prospective planks of the platform that we have discussed, and I think the delegation is agreed unanimously upon those. I myself, am a banker and I heartily favor the deposit guarantee plank."

Like many others of the arriving delegates Mr. O'Malley visited Mr. Bryan at Fairview on his way to Denver.

TO APPEAR IN PARADE.

C. A. Quigley Sends an Automobile to Idaho Falls.

C. A. Quigley, manager of Studebaker Bros., started an automobile to Idaho Falls, Ida., at noon yesterday. It is to appear in the automobile parade in that city on Saturday. The machine was in charge of S. D. Reed and W. H. Lloyd. Mr. Quigley will go to Idaho Falls by rail, not being able to spare the time for the 115-mile ride in the machine. But he will use the auto in the parade.
